Main Memorial: To the right of the communion table on a wall facing the main entrance. 32408

The white (with pink veins) marble tablet is 1100mm wide and 820mm high. The names are surrounded by a gold edged rectangular chequered border consisting of alternate small rectangular pieces of white and red coloured stone; in the corners of this border are set small squares of a white translucent material probably 'Mother of pearl'.

The inscriptions are shown clearly on the accompanying photograph.
